Epidemic Cholera.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I have read, with interest, the communication in to-day's Sentinel, signed "Correspondent," upon the subject of Epidemic Cholera; and I like the writer's views and approve of them generally, particularly those advanced upon the question of food and nourishment. Fearing, however, that your "Correspondent," from the conclusion of his article, may not favor the reading public with another communication on this subject, I shall endeavor to further ventilate it; but with what success, let others determine.

To assert that this or that thing, or any particular article of food, is wholesome, without a knowledge of the condition of the person and his daily habits for whom it is intended, reminds one of a sailor pronouncing the wind fair, without knowing to what port the vessel is bound. Certainly, the very best opinion, as regards the wholesomeness of an aliment, in the case of any particular individual, is comprised in the answer of the facetious Dr. Mandeville, who, when asked by the ladies of the court, whether this or that article of diet were wholesome, asked whether they liked it, and it agreed with them? If so, it was wholesome.

So, also, your "Correspondent's" remarks upon the subjects of sewers and drains, the removal of all filth from the town, of every description whatsoever, and the free and judicious use of lime, as a health-preserving agent, in all tenements, and on all grounds requiring to be purified, are too important to be either forgotten by the individuals, or overlooked by the public authorities of a city. The suggestion, too, that it might be well for the corporate authorities of this city to lay in an abundant supply of lime for the use of the citizens,—selling it to those who are able to pay, and giving it to those who are, beyond all question, not able to buy it; but unconditionally requiring of all to use it freely and wisely—is in every way worthy of consideration.

But I must not trespass on the proper duties of the health Commissioners, lately appointed by the City authorities. I hope that the public will soon be favored with their report in relation to the proper sanitary measures that should be adopted and enforced in this city, in view of the approach and prevalence of epidemic cholera. Coming, as it will, from those who occupy a higher, and therefore, of course, a better standpoint, and who enjoy the advantages of more enlightened circumstances, it should have, as it doubtless will have, an educational influence. I do not mean by this, it should teach the peoples the three R's, reading, riting and rithmetic, toasted by a New York Alderman, although it is thought just now that these attainments will largely increase the present usefulness and market value of their possessor. The education to which I refer, as an all-important influence in proper sanitary measures and progress, is that which would consist in exhibiting to all classes of society the practical evidences of the attainability and of the advantages of a better, as well as higher, civilization; an educational influence which would teach the lowest classes, by the enforcement of sanitary laws and examples, as well as by precepts, to know cleanliness from dirt, decency from grossness, human propriety from brutish self-abandonment; an educational influence which will teach them to feel the comfort as well as the profit of sanitary observances, and thus, at least, make them apply their instincts of self-preservation to the deliberate avoidance of disease. Thus, it will be seen, that a proper sanitary measure reaches, or, at least, is intended to reach, every person—the professional man and the merchant, the artizan and the laborer, the rich and the poor, and is unlike much of the legislation and reform of the present day. It aims at the establishment of no abstract principle, with no practical, definite bearing or application; and, therefore, rests upon no visionary theory, conceived in the closet or study of some impracticable enthusiast or legislator, to be pretendedly carried out and executed by smart, designing knaves, who ride the hobby with their own purposes and for their own benefit.—It does not seek to overturn nor upturn any social, political or religious sentiment, or institution; nor to abrogate any constitutional or statute law. It therefore interferes with no man's proper rights, pecuniary, social, political or religious, and it, therefore, also takes things as they are; looks upon man as it finds him; allows him to enjoy the institutions with which he is favoured; ministers to his comforts in every way, and gives him the means of living longer, and of enjoying more while he does live. There is in this no transcendentalism or other ism or ology, to which any reasonable man can object; although it far transcends, in its simplicity, in its practical utility, and in its substantial, every day, universal benefits, some of the other reforms of the day.

Then let no one, whether he be a member of the corporation council, or a mere citizen of the town, offer any obstruction to the immediate adoption and enforcement of such measures, for every man, in every station of life in the City, has a direct interest in their success. More than that, every person should do all in his power, and every one can do something, to establish, promote and maintain them; endeavoring to remove and reform any sanitary evils that may exist either on his own premises or in his own person or habits, and those of his family and neighborhood; and any such effort, wisely directed, will increase the amount of his own individual enjoyment, while it adds to the aggregate enjoyment of the whole City,—and thus may be accomplished the high and praiseworthy objects, for which this sanitary movement was undertaken and begun.

DAILY SENTINEL.

"I WOULD RATHER BE RIGHT THAN BE PRESIDENT."—Henry Clay.

VOL. I. RALEIGH, THURSDAY, MAY 3, 1866. NO. 225.

Important from Washington.

REPORT FROM THE RECONSTRUCTION COMMITTEE—THE TERMS UPON WHICH THE SOUTHERN STATES ARE TO BE ADMITTED—ANOTHER AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION—WHO ARE TO BE FOREVER DISFRANCHISED, &c.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The Joint Committee on Reconstruction, after a session of some four hours to-day, at which all the members of the Committee were present, agreed to report on Monday next the following propositions:

A joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

Be it Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, two-thirds of both Houses concurring, that the following article be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which, when ratified by three-fourths of said Legislatures, shall be valid as part of the Constitution, namely:

ARTICLE—

Section 1. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States, nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included in this Union according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, including Indians not taxed; but whenever in any State the elective franchise shall be denied to any portion of its male citizens not less than 21 years of age, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crimes, the basis of representation in said States shall be reduced in the proportion to which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens not less than 21 years of age.

Sec. 3. Until the 4th day of July, 1870, all persons who voluntarily adhered to the late insurrection, giving it aid and comfort, shall be excluded from the right to vote for members of Congress, and for electors for President and Vice President of the United States.

Sec. 4. Neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation already incurred, or which may hereafter be incurred, in aid of insurrection or of war against the United States, or any claim for compensation for loss of involuntary service or labor.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

A Bill to provide for the restoration of the States lately in insurrection to their full political rights.

WHEREAS, It is expedient that the States lately in insurrection should, at the earliest day consistent with the future peace and safety of the Union, be restored to full participation in all political rights, and whereas, the Congress did, by joint resolution, propose for ratification to the Legislature of the several States as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States an article in the following words, to wit: (The Constitutional article is here inserted.) Now, therefore,

Be it enacted, etc., That whenever the above recited amendment shall have become part of the Constitution, and any State lately in insurrection shall have ratified the same and shall have modified its Constitution and laws in conformity therewith, the Senators and Representatives from such State, if found duly elected and qualified, may, having taken the required oaths of office, be admitted into Congress as such.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That when any State lately in insurrection shall have ratified the foregoing proposed amendment to the Constitution, any part of the direct tax under the act of August 5th, 1861, which may remain due and unpaid in such State, may be assumed and paid by such State, and the payment thereof, on proper assurances from such State, to be given to the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, may be postponed for a period not exceeding ten years from and after the passage of this act.

A bill declaring certain persons ineligible to office under the government of the United States.

Be it enacted, &c., That no person shall be eligible to any office under the government of the United States who is included in any of the following classes, namely: First. The President and Vice President of the Confederate States of America, so called, and the Heads of Departments thereof. Second. Those who in other countries acted as agents of the Confederate States of America, so called. Third. Heads of Departments of the United States, officers of the army and navy of the United States, and all persons educated at the Military or Naval Academy of the United States, Judges of the Courts of the United States, and members of either House of the 36th Congress of the United States, who gave aid or comfort to the late rebellion. Fourth. Those who acted as officers of the Confederate States of America, so-called, above the grade of Colonel in the army or Master in the navy, and any one who, as Governor of either of the so-called Confederate States, gave aid or comfort to the late rebellion. Fifth.—Those who have treated officers, or soldiers, or sailors of the army or navy of the United States, captured during the late war, otherwise than lawfully as prisoners of war.

The Committee removed the injunction of secrecy so far as the above propositions are concerned, and permitted copies to be furnished to the Press. It is understood that the vote upon them was twelve against three. As it is known that Senator Johnson and Representatives Grider and Rogers only voted in the negative, the affirmative must be Senators Fessender, Grimes, Harris, Howard and Williams, and Representatives Stevens, Washburne, of Illinois, Morrill, Bingham, Conkling, Boutwell and Blow.

SALISBURY BRASS BAND

REORGANIZED 1st January, 1866, on a larger scale than formerly, under the direction of its former tutor, W. H. NEAVE, who was also chief music writer and Band Teacher in Gen. Lee's army. He will be assisted in leadership and direction by his brother, Ed. Neave, leader during the entire late war of Gen. Lee's best and most favorite band, viz.: 4th N. C. The Band is composed of the best members of the old Band, together with the best members of several of the fine Bands trained by W. H. Neave, in camps, who have moved to Salisbury from all points in the State to follow their respective vocations and continue the study and practice of music. This Band will be a permanent institution for all State and festive occasions, and will equal the best to be found in the world, if sustained by those desiring a fine order of Brass and String music; if not, it must go down after this year.

W. H. Neave is also agent for the celebrated Dodworth Brass instruments, proved and warranted to him, and by him to others; also, the most pleasing, effective and popular Piano music, selected by his friends, H. B. Dodworth and Kent Botsford, New York. For beginners, medium players, and advanced musicians, no trash for either.

Music composed and arranged to order for Parlor, Orchestral and Brass Band use for any kind and number of instruments.

Salisbury has been selected for Musical Headquarters for its central position.

N. B. Mere letters of enquiry for musical information, but with no view to business with Mr. Neave or Band, must contain two postage stamps.

The Reconstruction Committee.

We have yet to see,—what we trust we never shall see,—the first Southern paper that does not spurn, with indignation and scorn, the degrading propositions of the so-called Reconstruction Committee.

The leading journals of the North, with which we exchange, are equally emphatic in their denunciation of the report and its authors and supporters. The tone of these papers is the herald, we hope, of a storm of popular indignation. We shall give extracts from them from day to day, and we commence, this morning, with the following from the New York World:

"Who is so demented as to suppose that the Southern people will accept of a hollow mockery like this? Representation is what the Southern people demand, and the committee say they may have representative if they will renounce their right to choose them! if they will allow them to be chosen by the insignificant portion of the Southern people who had no participation in, and gave no countenance to, the rebellion. It is notorious that, in some of the States, the citizens answering to this description are so few that there cannot be found among them enough to take the test oath and fill the federal offices. Secretary McCulloch has been obliged to appoint tax-collectors, and Postmaster-General Dennison postmasters, who have, as yet, received no pay, because they are unable to swear that they gave no aid to the rebellion. It would be a burlesque on representative government to allow the few Southerners who lent no countenance to the rebellion to choose the members of Congress in their respective districts, and the Presidential Electors in their several States. Who could such members represent? Not the people of their districts; for not one man in a thousand would participate in their election. The Republicans have been vociferating, for the last five months, that there would be no fairness in allowing the Southern whites to elect a number of representatives corresponding to the whole Southern population, black and white. But if that would be unfair, what, by their own method of reasoning, ought to be said of this project for allowing the insignificant fraction of the whites who did not favor the rebellion to have as many representatives in Congress as the whole population of the South are entitled to? There are many Congressional districts in which there are not a dozen loyalists whose loyalty has been uniform. What a preposterous farce it would be to allow this dozen, or less, to elect one of their number to Congress to represent the whole district!

* * * * * * * *

We could assign many other reasons for thinking that the South is certain to reject this proposal; but let those given be deemed, for the present, sufficient. If anybody doubts that it will be spurned, let him wait a few days for the comments of the Southern press. If the scheme of the committee had presented only the condition embodied in the second section of their proposed constitutional amendment, it would be not less certainly rejected, although that section merely exacts an unwarrantable condition, and does not, like the third, offer an insult.—But lest, by some unexpected possibility, the South should accept the new basis of representation, the committee concluded to make sure work, and render the rejection of their plan certain, by asking the great body of the people to become the voluntary instruments of their own disfranchisement, for the sake of having representatives they are not to be permitted to elect. The main purpose of the whole scheme is to keep the South out till after the Presidential election; and lest this main purpose should be frustrated by the unexpected acceptance of unpalatable conditions, a further condition was interwoven which would disfranchise the South in any event. The purpose of the scheme would not have been more apparent had it been labelled by the committee, "An infallible plan for preventing the South from voting in the next Presidential election." So transparent is its intent that it fails entirely in respect to its secondary object of putting the onus of exclusion on the South itself. It is not an honest proposition; it is not offered with any expectation of its acceptance, but with a deliberate design that it shall be rejected."

THE MOST CONTEMPTIBLE and characteristic feature of the report of the so-called Reconstruction Committee, is that which offers to our people a paltry bribe, in the shape of a long credit on the Land Tax, to induce their acceptance of its degrading conditions. The authors of the report measure the cupidity and venality of the Southern people by their own mercenary standard. They evidently think that money is better than principle, and that a few dollars will compensate for the surrender of honor, manhood, right and Constitutional privileges. Our people will spurn their propositions with loathing, and with none the less detestation that they are coupled with the insulting offer of a bribe.

BY ONE OF THOSE mistakes, which will occur "in the best regulated" offices, an error occurred in the making up of our form, on yesterday, by which a small part of the communication headed "Epidemic Cholera" was inserted in the body of the report of the Reconstruction Committee. We re-publish both articles, in their proper shape, on our outside this morning.

Our paper is made up generally about "the gloaming," and we often seriously feel the absence of gas light at that hour. Cannot the Company "turn on" a little earlier? It would be a great convenience and prevent such mistakes as the one in question.

There may, after all, have been some design upon the part of our Foreman. He probably regarded the report of the Committee as such a diseased affair, that he thought a small dose of Cholera medicine would'nt be out of place.—We are rather inclined to think that that, after all, is the true explanation.

A Card.

NEW ORLEANS, 12th April, 1866.

SIR:—Two friends have sent me copies of your editorial containing many allegations against me, made positively, as of your own knowledge, each of which the facts of my history, as known in North Carolina, will, I think, abundantly refute.

The statement which my friends think I ought specially to notice is this, which you make on the authority of another, that "he (Dr. Deems) declared in substance frequently, as we have been informed, that he would as soon doubt the Christian religion as the success of the Confederate cause."

I have no doubt you were so informed, but I regret that you allowed any pressure, personal or political, to make you publish a statement so utterly without foundation in fact and against one who has never shown anything but kindness towards you. I never had such a sentiment as you assign, and never made such a statement, to the best of my recollection and belief. Please publish this Card in simple justice; and as I know not the extent of this calumny, I respectfully ask my brethren of the press in North Carolina to copy it.

Respectfully yours,
CHARLES F. DEEMS,
Editor of the Watchman.

HON. W. W. HOLDEN.

In reply to the above we invite attention to the following statement, by Col. C. L. Harris, one of the members of the Convention, and also State Senator from the county of Rutherford, who is sojourning in Raleigh:

RALEIGH, April 20, 1866.

In June or July, 1864, I heard the Rev. C. F. Deems deliver a speech in the town of Rutherfordton, North Carolina, in which he said, among other things, that he would as soon doubt the Christian religion as the success or righteousness of the Confederate cause. I am quite certain Dr. Deems used this language. He preceded Gov. Vance on the occasion. The latter was at that time a candidate for the office of Governor.

C. L. HARRIS.

It is not necessary that we should add anything to what Col. Harris has said. We have proved the charge.—Standard.

During the recent absence of the Senior Editor, the above appeared in the Standard, and our Associate deemed it advisable to pass it by. The relations of Rev. Dr. Deems to the Church and people of North Carolina, and his well-known devotion to the interests of the State in all respects, demand of the Senior Editor of this paper, especially, that in Dr. Deems' absence from the State, his good fame and reputation, as a Christian gentleman and minister, shall not suffer.

We need not say, that the personal attacks of the Standard, which called forth the above letter from Dr. Deems, were wholly unjustifiable. Dr. Deems, and no friend of his, have any right to complain of the legitimate criticisms of the Standard, or any one else, upon any opinion, doctrine or expression of his, whether published or spoken in public. But to go beyond the ordinary courtesies of life to eliminate matter to prejudice the character of an opponent, and by that means to bolster up a false and disingenuous criticism, cannot be justified. In this species of controversy the Standard has acquired an unenviable reputation, and yet few are more sensitive, when its opponents resort to similar means of defence. No age, sex or position escapes the Standard, when they get in its way. Presuming upon its power to "kill and make alive," it pushes its horns against every thing which opposes, regardless of the effect or the injury upon private character.

But the Standard says it has proved its charge against Dr. Deems by the card of Mr. Harris. The Standard's idea of proof has always been singular, and, hard pressed as it has been of late, it is thankful for small favors. Let us look at the facts:

The Standard charged upon Dr. Deems, that during the time he was making speeches in this State in aid of the Orphan Fund, he, Dr. Deems, declared that he "would as soon doubt the Christian religion, as the success of the Confederate cause." Dr. Deems, in reply, courteously avoids making any issue with the Standard—does not in the least assail the veracity of the Standard, but simply denies positively the correctness of its information. If Mr. Harris was the informant of the Standard, upon whose authority it made the charge against Dr. Deems, the reader will perceive that Dr. Deems' denial does not impeach the veracity of Mr. Harris.—And yet the Standard, anxious to prove Dr. Deems what?—a liar? and thus damage the reputation of a Christian minister of high standing and the Church of which he was a minister,—produces Mr. Harris' card to prove that he did lie, and then boasted that he had proved it! Dr. Deems, however, cannot take it much to heart. The Standard's tactics have aimed to put almost every prominent citizen of the State, who opposes it, in the same category or one not less offensive. The friends of Dr. Deems, and of Christianity in the State, will rebuke this shameless and outrageous treatment, we hope, as it deserves.

But let us consider the certificate. We are glad that Mr. Harris was not as reckless of his own character, and that of Dr. Deems, as the Standard was of Dr. Deems'. Mr. Harris says that he is quite certain that Dr. Deems, in his speech at Rutherfordton, said "that he would as soon doubt the Christian religion as the success or righteousness of the Confederate cause." Now as Mr. Harris is quite certain, he ought to have stated positively what Dr. Deems did say. But when he says that Dr. Deems used either the word "success or righteousness," words signifying, in that connection, so wide a difference, it was absolutely obligatory upon the Standard to force its friend, Mr. Harris, to say that Dr. Deems used the word success and no other, in order to prove its assertion. But Mr. Harris says, that Dr. Deems used either the word "success or righteousness." Does that prove its charge? Certainly not. Dr. Deems denies that he ever held as a matter of faith the success of the Confederacy to the extent that he does the truth of the Christian religion, and therefore could not have said so. But Dr. Deems does not and will not deny, that he did believe as firmly in the righteousness of the Confederate cause as he did, and does, in the truth of the Christian religion. This is what Dr. Deems intended to say, and did say, in the speech which Mr. Harris heard, and which thousands have heard in different parts of the State, from his lips. Moreover, Dr. Deems will not deny that he did believe in the success of the Confederate cause, but his faith in that was fickle, changeful, sometimes weak and sometimes strong, while his faith in the Christian religion was unwavering and unchanging.

LORD CHATHAM concluded one of his great efforts in the House of Lords, in 1777, on the course of the British Ministry in relation to the American colonies, with the following memorable words:

"My lords, no time should be lost which may promise to improve this disposition in America, unless, by an obstinacy founded in madness, we wish to stifle those embers of kindness which, after all our savage treatment, do not seem as yet to be entirely extinguished. * * * I tremble for the country. I am almost led to despair that we shall ever be able to extricate ourselves. At any rate, the day of retribution is at hand, when the vengence of an outraged people will fall heavily on the authors of this ruin; and I am strongly inclined to believe that before the day of the proposed adjournment shall arrive, the noble earl who offered it will have just cause to repent of his motion."

If these words of counsel, warning and prediction had been used at the present day, with reference to the blind and malignant policy of the Radical majority in Congress towards the South, they could not have been more apposite. The course which they are pursuing, if successful, will result in the extinguishment of all regard and affection, on the part of our people, towards the Government. They can feel no attachment for one which only holds them to oppress. The Union, thus patched up, will be merely nominal; while in reality it will be discordant, dissevered and antagonistic.

But we cannot believe that such diabolic counsels can ultimately prevail. We choose rather to believe "that a day of retribution is at hand," and that the vengeance of the people will speedily descend upon the authors of this threatened ruin. We shall be much deceived, if the result of the elections, this Fall, in the Northern States, does not teach them a lesson that will not soon be forgotten, and which will be the precursor of their final exodus from the stage of action which they have disgraced.—They will leave nought behind but a record steeped in infamy.

Peace Hath its Victories.

The Petersburg papers of yesterday report that the order which directed the civil authorities of that city to turn over to the officers of the Freedmen's Bureau, Elliot Gordon, a horse thief, recently arrested there, has been suspended.

This is the first recorded instance in this State, since the war, in which conflict between the civil and military authorities has resulted in the vindication of the supremacy of the former. That it is so in this case is entirely due to the firmness with which the officer representing the State discharged his duties, and resisted infringement upon the authority he held by her commission.—Norfolk Virginian.

The case to which the Virginian refers has created much excitement in Virginia. The circumstances attending it are these: One Gordon, of Massachusetts, stole a horse at Petersburg, and the laws of Virginia punishing that little matter with death, there was a huge outcry for military interposition to save the interesting adventurer from a doom that is perhaps not too bad for him, especially as he robbed a negro!—Gov. Pierpoint endorsed the application for martial interference, and prostituted the influence of his place to nullify the law which it is his duty to defend and execute. Gen. Howard authorized his subordinates to rescue the rogue from the halter, but the civil officer refused to submit to the military. We join the Virginian in its felicitations over the triumph, thus far, of the civil law, as implied in the reported suspension of Gen. Howard's order.

THE REPORT of the Destruction Committee proceeds upon the assumption that secession was a triumph, and that the Southern States made good their separation from the Union.—At the same time, by offering as an equivalent for their acceptance of its provisions a temporary exemption from the land tax, its authors hold that we are not sufficiently out of the Union to be free from liability to taxation. Else they propose to tax us as colonies, as the American colonies were taxed before '76! Was there ever such monstrous inconsistency,—such unparalleled iniquity?

GOV. PEIRPOINT, of Virginia, being recently applied to by Gen. Colston for the use of the Hall of the House of Delegates in which to deliver a Lecture upon the life and character of Stonewall Jackson, that jacobin dignitary refused, and coupled his refusal with some insulting allusions to the memory of the great hero. His conduct is justly exciting universal indignation to Virginia.

In glowing contrast with the indignity thus offered by this creature, is the following extract from a letter written by Gen. Blair to the late Johnson meeting in St. Louis:

"What civilized nation on earth would hesitate an instant, if the opportunity offered, to incorporate with themselves the brave and heroic people of the South, whose fortitude and endurance, in a mistaken cause, challenges the admiration and respect of the world? Would France, or England, or any other civilized power, hesitate to give to such men the full and equal rights accorded to all other citizens?—Would not those nations be most happy to claim as their own such men as Lee and Johnson, and a host of others, and to confer upon these living heroes the reward which genius and courage have always commanded? Would they fail to honor and cherish, as a part of their own glory, the memory of that illustrious throng of the dead, led by Stonewall Jackson? Their fame belongs to our name and nation, and their survivors, animated by an equal courage and devotion, and inspired by what we hope and believe is a better cause, will hereafter contribute equally with the noble spirits of the North to the renown of our great Republic."

Methodist General Conference.

We have found it impossible to collect from the secular press any connected resume of the proceedings of this Conference.

We glean, from the papers, that the correct list of the four newly elected Bishops is as follows: Rev. Dr. W. M. Wightman, of Alabama, Rev. C. M. Marvin, of Missouri, Rev. Dr. D. S. Doggett, of Virginia, and Rev. Dr. H. N. McTyeire, of Alabama.

Rev. W. H. Redford, of Louisville, Ky., is appointed Book Agent, and Rev. Dr. Summers Book Editor.

The Domestic Missionary Board is located at Nashville, Tenn., and Rev. Dr. McFerrin was elected Secretary.

The Foreign Missionary Board is located at Baltimore.

Rev. Dr. Myers was re-elected Editor of the Southern Christian Advocate.

On motion of Dr. McTyeire, the Committee on changes in Economy was instructed, by a large vote, to report in favor of admitting lay representatives in the Annual and General Conferences.

THE 10TH INST. is the anniversary of the death of "Stonewall" Jackson. The Richmond Examiner proposes that, on that day, all stores be closed, that all papers intermit publication, that the churches be opened for memorial services for the dead of the whole Confederate army, and that collections be made for the preservation of the neglected graves of our soldiers.

THE RICHMOND PAPERS, of yesterday, pronounce the telegram published on the previous day, concerning a riot in Falmouth, Va., in which a number of negroes were said to be killed, a sheer fabrication. Steps are being taken to expose the author of the wicked rumor.

EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY.—The Military Commission sitting at Charleston, South Carolina, recently convicted four highly respectable citizens of murder, upon evidence which was generally believed, in Charleston, to have been suborned. Two were sentenced to be hanged, and two to incarceration for life in a Northern penitentiary. Much feeling was aroused by the belief, on the part of the citizens, that the accused had not been fairly tried, and were innocent of the crime imputed to them.

We are glad to learn that the President has suspended the execution of the sentence.

PARDONED.—In addition to the list recently published in the Sentinel, we learn that Col. Geo. Little has received his pardon through the hands of Gov. Worth.

For the Sentinel.

What Does North Carolina Need?

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In these times of great scarcity and want, the above question is asked with no little interest. The writer of this, though an humble citizen, proposes the following suggestions in answer to the foregoing enquiry:

1*st.* To consolidate the N. C., W. N. C., and A. & N. C. Railroads, so as to have one continuous line or road through the entire State, from East to West, managed by one set of prompt and energetic business men.

2*nd.* To build branch roads from this main line to such remote sections of the State as need railroad facilities.

3*rd.* To cut a ship canal through the Marsh (where there is no timber) from Adams' Creek, thirty miles below Newbern, on Neuse River, to Beaufort Harbor, a distance of only seven miles, by which an inland route may be made from Beaufort to Baltimore, passing through a vast section of rich country, on which route the State of North Carolina owns large bodies of swamp lands, and by which route the dangers of the coast may be avoided, and the difficulties of the passage of the bars at Hatteras and Ocracoke obviated.

4*th.* A line of vessels to run from Beaufort Harbor to Europe for the purpose of exporting the Cotton, Flour, Grain, Naval Stores, Lumber, &c., bringing in such articles as are needed in our State for agricultural, mechanical and other purposes, and especially immigrants to cultivate our soil, open and work our mines, build roads, run factories, &c., &c., all of which may be done with effort, energy and application, and at a cost small, in comparison of the great advantages that would accrue to our State and its citizens.

5*th.* The Legislature will agree to give to a Company one-half of the swamp lands of the State, on condition that they will establish a line of vessels to Europe, import immigrants and improve the land so donated.

By carrying out some such system as this article proposes, our State would soon be out of debt, the public works in a flourishing condition, and her people prosperous and happy.

CAROLINA.

April 26th, 1866.

OFFICE OF SECRETARY OF STATE,
Raleigh, N. C., April 30, 1866.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Please publish the following resolution, for the information of the Clerks of the different Courts of North Carolina, and request the newspapers of the State to call attention to the same. Your ob't serv't,

R. W. BEST,
Sec'y of State.

Resolved, &c., That the Secretary of State be and he is hereby directed to distribute one copy each of the Revised Code and second volume of the Revised Statutes and Acts of the General Assembly, passed since the adoption of the Revised Code, for the use of their respective offices, to each of the Clerks of the Courts of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, Clerks of the Superior Courts and Clerks and Masters in Equity, of those Counties to which the same has never been distributed, or where the same has been destroyed by the burning of the Courthouse or public records, or been destroyed on account of raids or other unavoidable cause during the war between the Northern and Southern States, from any surplus copies thereof belonging to the State not necessary to be retained in his office for public use: Provided, That he shall not distribute said laws except to said Clerks of newly formed Counties where no distribution has heretofore been made, unless the Clerks applying for the same shall first certify, under the seal of their office, that the said laws for which they may apply has never been distributed heretofore for the use of their respective offices or else have been destroyed or lost as aforesaid.

Resolved, &c., That the Governor be and he is hereby authorized and requested to furnish the Secretary of State a sufficient number of the Revised Code and the second volume of the Revised Statutes that have been placed in the hands of booksellers for sale, or elsewhere for safe keeping, as may be necessary for distribution under the foregoing resolutions. Ratified the 19th day of February, A. D. 1866.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT ORDER.

Military Commissions.

THEIR AUTHORITY LIMITED.

WASHINGTON, May, 2.

An order has just been issued from the war department, by direction of the President, declaring that military commissions and courts martial are not authorized and therefore will not assume jurisdiction for the trial of persons other than those belonging to the army and navy of the United States, camp followers, contractors, and such others as are indicted in the articles of war and the acts of Congress.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The ship Anna Schmidt, which was destroyed by the Alabama off the cost of South America, had on board a quantity of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for California. Dr Ayer & Co., now appeal for redress direct to the British Government, as the responsible party in this wicked business, and base their claim for payment and protection on the ground of humanity: as their commodities are wholly for the sick. Their point is well taken, and will doubtless be pressed with the pluck and persistency which characterize the operations of these celebrated chemists.—(Baltimore Clipper.

An Extraordinary Statement in Regard to Rheumatism and Pleurisy.

Peter Vaden, Esq., Dinwiddie county, Va., (Nov. 6, 1865,) says: "In August 1857, my wife, aged 66 years, was taken ill with what the doctor called a Bilious Rheumatism affecting her whole system; rendering her entirely helpless, so much so, that she had to be lifted and fed as an infant, for the space of three months, suffering the most excruciating pain; her hands drawn out of shape and stiff, so that she could not use them. After all other remedies failed, in January, 1858, I was advised to get the SOUTHERN HEPATIC PILLS for her. She used the Pills strictly according to the directions accompanying them, and we soon discovered a change for the better, and in one month's using she was well, and continued so up to the present time; has become fleshy, cheerful, and as active as one could be of her age. One of my servants was taken with a violent attack of Bilious Pleurisy. I gave him those Pills, and in about ten days he was up and at his work; said that he felt as well as he ever did, and has continued well ever since.—Another was taken with Pleurisy. I gave the Pills, and she was well and at her work in ten days after she commenced using them. My Doctor's bill has been heretofore from $175 to 200 per year. I have used them in my family, which consists of eighteen white and colored, and have not called in a doctor during the year. This is a great saving. They certainly are the best family medicine ever discovered. After a fair trial I can recommend them as such."

COTTON GINS,

MANUFACTURED BY

W. G. CLEMONS, BROWN & CO.,

COLUMBUS, GA.

WE have received the manufacture of Cotton Gins in this city, and will be prepared to fill orders by 1st June next. As we shall not be, as heretofore, represented by traveling agents, parties wishing our Gins will confer a favor by sending in their orders at an early day. As owing to the demand, we shall be unable to keep a stock in the hands of our local agents, as it was our practice before the war. All business transactions being now reduced to cash, our sales will be made on the basis of ready pay.

Our Gins are too well known to require any special notice or commendation; we believe they are unrivalled in the chief points of excellence which go to make up a superior machine, namely: Speed, light draught and good sample.

Our DOUBLE CYLINDER GINS will be found superior to the single cylinder, when parties have steam or good water power, to give them the necessary speed. In all cases when this can be done, we recommend them in preference to the single cylinder. If, however, indifferent or insufficient power is used, they will not do as well as the single Gin.

Messrs. DEROSSET & CO., Wilmington, N. C., are our general agents for the State of North Carolina.

W. G. CLEMONS, BROWN & CO.

Columbus, Ga., April 24 '66.

We will give prompt attention to orders for the above celebrated Gins from any part of the State. The price is five dollars ($5) per Saw at the Factory, and five dollars for each Gin will only be charged to purchasers for transportation to this point.

Trial of Major Jno. H. Gee.

SYNOPSIS OF TESTIMONY.

THIRTY-EIGHTH DAY:

[CONCLUDED.]

TUESDAY, May 1st.

W. J. Mills, sworn.—Lives at Salisbury; has lived there twelve years. Was agent for the collection of the tax in kind. I advertised by hand-bills and in the papers. County was divided into four divisions and an agent for each. My office was on the main street.

The crop in '63 was short; I collected one tenth of the wheat, corn, rye, oats, bacon, white potatoes and sorghum; and of the hay and fodder. I took tithes of sweet potatoes in 63; in 64, they had the rot. The crop in 64 was worse than in 63, and there was a considerable falling off in the tithes. Wheat and corn corps were light. I turned them over to Major Myers, except the long and short forage to the quartermaster. In 64, I turned over a large amount of corn to the commissary. It belonged to the quartermaster's stores, but Major Myers wrote to the department that he could not get along without it and I was ordered by the quartermaster to turn it over to Major Myers. I saw Major Myers' letter; the substance was, that he could not get supplies for the garrison, that he had agents to impress, but could not get enough.

Waggons that came to my office were often impressed to haul wood. Some of them were 12 miles from town. It was hard to get supplies brought to town. Farmers were afraid to come. This wood was hauled to the garrison.

The bacon did not come till March. I recollect receiving a few hundred lbs of green meat in February. It was given to the commissary. When the prisoners were there Major Myers said he must have supplies, that he was bound to get every lb. of bacon he could get in the country.

The Assessors fixed the amount each farmer would have to pay; that was not a part of my business.

This impressment of waggons was very troublesome to my business. I complained to Maj. Finger. The cause of the short crop was the want of labor. The hands were impressed, and the white men were in the army. The farmers complained, saying they did not have enough for their own wants.

Many of the troops passed through Salisbury. I think it was the main route of travel. There was no surplus meat in the county when the prisoners of war came. It was very hard to buy for my own table. I recollect that there was a freshet that winter. It affected the railroad and carried away several bridges, in Jan. '65, I think. The roads were in a bad fix, there was no one to work them.

Witness described seeing prisoners carrying water from the town wells.

On the 25th of November, about 2, P. M., I was standing in office door—heard cannon fire, ran down to the garrison in about three minutes. It was three squares to the garrison.—There was a large crowd of citizens there. Maj. Gee was standing with his back to me. I heard him say "for God's sake to stop firing." Think he ordered Col. Stowe to go around the platform and stop the firing. Col. Stowe, I think, said he would cut the first man's head off that fired. He then passed around. There were two or three shots fired after this, on the East side.

I saw troops that were at the depot return; I got there before they did. There were a great many people there armed. They wanted to shoot. Maj. Gee did all that he could to quiet them.

An Alabama company, some of whose comrades had been killed, were very much excited. They wanted the ringleaders killed. Maj. Gee said they should have a fair trial.

I could see the prisoners inside; I looked thro' the gate. They were standing around, a good many of them.

Once went into Major Gee's office with Dr. Kennedy. He saw a relative who was a prisoner of war. Think he asked if he could see him, and just afterward Dr. Kennedy and Capt. Allen walked to the gate of the prison.

Some few times I supplied Capt. Goodman and some of his hands by Major Myers' orders; until, I think, December, Major Myers didn't have the supplies.

Court adjourned.

[The evidence offered on yesterday will appear to-morrow.]

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—DeRossett & Co., Wilmington, announce themselves agents for the sale of the Cotton Gins, manufactured by Clemons, Brown & Co., of Columbus, Georgia.

Heart-Pine Wood:—See advertisement of W. W. Pierce.

Pulliam, Jones & Co., make several attractive announcements.

J. Kinsey offers beautiful and cheap Spring and Summer Calicoes.

See Professional Card of Ro. G. Lewis, Attorney at Law.

BISHOP ATKINSON.—This distinguished divine, owing to feeble health, has been compelled to abandon his diocesan visitations for the present. He hopes, however, after resting at his home, in Wilmington, for a fortnight, to be able to resume his labors.

PERSONAL.—We had the pleasure of a visit, on yesterday, from the venerable Hon. Weldon N. Edwards, of Warren. We were gratified to see him looking remarkably well. Mr. Edwards warmly endorses the administration of Mr. Johnson. He thinks that our people should preserve a mild and dignified serenity, and carefully avoid doing anything that may interfere with the success of the wise and beneficent policy of the President.

The District Court of the United States, for the District of Cape Fear, in the District of North Carolina, opened its Spring session in Wilmington, on Monday, His Honor, G. W. Brooks, presiding. The United States Attorney for the District of North Carolina, D. H. Starbuck, Esq., and the U. S. Marshal, Mr. Goodloe, were present.

The Wilmington Dispatch states that Dr. M. J. DeRossett, formerly of that City, has been appointed Professor in the Medical College of Maryland.

The Dispatch says that Dr. DeRossett, though young, is able and skillful, and during the late war, through which he faithfully served as a Surgeon in the Confederate army, gained an enviable reputation.

BEAUTIFUL.—In pursuance of a very general understanding throughout the South, the 26th day of April, as we learn from the Wilmington papers, was observed by the ladies of that City as a suitable occasion to testify their respect and love for the brave Confederate dead. They accordingly repaired to Oakdale Cemetery, and decorated each hallowed mound with bouquets of flowers and evergreens. No distinction was made as regards military positions, as all, without regard to rank, who sleep there, did their duty well and fully.

The incident is touching, affecting, beautiful. We have not the wreaths of victory to hang upon the tombs of the fallen, but we can, and we will, strew the graves of the faithful dead with flowers and with tears. A people mean enough, and ungrateful enough, to forget their defenders, have no admiration for the sublime lessons of patriotism.

WORD PAINTING.—The accomplished authoress of "The Last Ninety Days of the War in North Carolina," published in the Watchman, gives the following graphic and life-like picture of the scenes in Raleigh, immediately preceding the entrance of Gen. Sherman's armies, on the morning of April 13th., 1865. Our citizens will recognize the exceeding faithfulness of the portraiture:

"Every door was shut, every window-blind was closed. The same absence of all signs of life, the same death-like silence and air of desertion, the same precautions against intrusion, characterized Fayetteville street from the Capitol to the Palace. The very air seemed shriveled. In the brief interval that elapsed from the retreat of her protectors to the arrival of her foes, the beautiful city of Raleigh stood under the outstretched arms of her noble oaks, embowered in the luxuriant shrubbery of a thousand gardens, just touched with vernal bloom and radiance—stood with folded hands and drooping head, in all the mortal anguish of suspense, in a silence that spoke, awaiting her fate!"

A SUGGESTION.—The remains of Capt. Eli Freeman, Co. C, 14th N. C. T., lie near Bethesda Church, nine miles from Richmond. He was killed on the 30th of May, 1864, while gallantly leading his company on that day. He sleeps far away from the wife of his bosom, and there is no sorrowing relative here to pay him the last sad tribute of love, and place him beside the wife. What say the surviving members of his old command to paying him this tribute? We would suggest that a day be fixed when all the members of said company, who can make it convenient to do so, meet in this town and take necessary steps to have his body brought home. We would suggest that Saturday, the 12th of May, be fixed for the day of meeting.—Wadesboro' Argus.

[We knew Eli Freeman well, and we have never known a more generous, unselfish, or gallant spirit. We saw him when he fell, on that memorable 30th of May, and the grief of his comrades, although enured to scenes of death, when the intelligence of their loss became generally known, testified eloquently to their appreciation of his manly and genial qualities. The glorious old company, which he commanded, and in which he took so great a pride, will honor themselves, no less than the memory of Capt. Freeman, by adopting the graceful suggestion of the Argus.—G.]

Proceedings of Congress.

WASHINGTON, April 30.

SENATE.—Mr. Fessenden, from the Reconstruction Committee, reported the bills and joint resolutions already published, and stated in doing so that it had been the intention of the Committee to accompany these bills and joint resolution with a lengthy written report, but such had been its situation that this report had not yet been completed. He hoped to be able to present it to the Senate before long.

The bills and joint resolutions were ordered to be printed.

Mr. Howe, from the Library Committee, reported a joint resolution for the purchase of the Library of James L. Pettigru, of South Carolina, for the Law Library of Congress.

A bill was passed authorizing the bridging of the Mississippi at Quincy, Ill.

HOUSE.—Mr. Stevens, from the Reconstruction Committee, reported the joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution, which, under a suspension of the rules, was made the special order for Tuesday week.

The bill for the admission of the Southern States was also reported, and was made the special order for Wednesday week.

The bill declaring certain persons ineligible to office was made the special order for Thursday week.

The House passed the bill making appropriations for River and Harbor improvements.

There is a strong probability of "Bummer Butler" being whitewashed into a state of moderate respectability. During the past fortnight his prospects have brightened very materially. In the first place, two valiant bank officials rushed into print to vindicate Butler from all suspicion of having pocketed the funds of a savings bank. In the second place, the counsel for a New Orleans broker, named Smith, from whom Butler took fifty thousand dollars in gold, gave him a certificate last week that the seizure was properly made, and the certificate so delighted B. F. that he straightway paid over the fifty thousand dollars to Smith's attorney. The certificate was well worth the money, and so emboldened Butler that he at once swore that the great rebellion had bankrupted him.

After the skillful whitewashing of Cataline by Louis Napoleon, in his life of Cæsar, the elaborate defence of Nero and Caligula by Thomas DeQuincy, and the complete vindication of Judas Iscariot by a German philosopher, we think there is a strong probability of somebody's making, one of these days, a "whited sepulchre" at least of Butler's reputation.—Richmond Times.

CONVENTION OF SUPERINTENDENTS OF INSANE ASYLUMS.—Pursuant to adjournment this Convention re-assembled at Willard's Hotel, Washington, on Wednesday morning last. The only proceeding of interest was the reading, by Dr. Chipley, of Kentucky, of an able and elaborate defence of Nero and Caligula by Thomas DeQuincy, and the complete vindication of Judas Iscariot by a German philosopher, we think there is a strong probability of somebody's making, one of these days, a "whited sepulchre" at least of Butler's reputation.—Richmond Times.

CONVENTION OF SUPERINTENDENTS OF INSANE ASYLUMS.—Pursuant to adjournment this Convention re-assembled at Willard's Hotel, Washington, on Wednesday morning last. The only proceeding of interest was the reading, by Dr. Chipley, of Kentucky, of an able and elaborate essay upon moral insanity as a distinct form of mental disease. Interesting statements were made by a number of members in relation to cases of insanity, of different characters, which had come under their several observations, and a spirited discussion occurred on the subject of the existence of what is termed moral insanity.

After passing a resolution that the next annual meeting of the Association will be held in Chicago, the meeting adjourned till 9 o'clock the next morning.

THE BUREAU DENOUNCED BY BENNETT.—The Herald of Thursday says:

"Our correspondence from all parts of the Southern country continues to furnish us with illustrations in regard to the workings of the Freedmen's Bureau anything but creditable to that Radical institution. This Bureau, from all the intelligence we can glean, appears to be nothing more nor less than a revival of the odious inter-State slave system, and the huge monopoly by Government employees of the profits arising therefrom. It is hateful to both whites and blacks; to the former for the reason that it maintains a military tyranny which is a source of continual irritation to all parties, and accomplishes nothing beneficial in the way of pacification and harmony; and it is detested by the blacks because it revives slavery in its most offensive form—namely, the transfer of negro families from State to State, and every remove another step beyond civilization. The mission that General Steadman has undertaken, to ascertain the true state of things in the South, is one of great importance, and its results will be looked forward to with great anxiety."

[General Steedman is said to have formed an opinion decidedly unfavorable to the Bureau.]

A NEW AND GRAND EPOCH IN MEDICINE!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his ex raordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggiel's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disenfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is here announced that Maggiel's Bilious, Dyspepsie and Diarrhea Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 43 Fulton Street, New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box. Sold by all Druggists in Raleigh.

I propose to commence, at an early day, the publication of a Daily Paper, in the City of Raleigh, to be called the "CITY INDEX." It will be published on the plan of a Penny paper, but not quite so cheap, for the present. It will be delivered daily by Carriers, and must be paid for weekly.

The INDEX will be published as a news paper, and will have nothing to do with parties, politics or politicians. It will give the latest news, general and commercial; local and State items; poetry, anecdotes, marriages and deaths.

The terms of subscription and advertising will be put at the lowest notch, and will be published in the first issue of the paper.

Cannot stay the flight of years, but they can force back and hold aloof, diseases that might triumph over the aged and the young. Let none hesitate then, but seize the favorable opportunity the offers. When taken as prescribed—

FOR BILLIOUS DISORDERS

Nothing can be more productive of cure than these Pills. Their almost magic influence is felt at once; and the usual concomitants of this most distressing disease are removed. These remedies are made from the purest

VEGETABLE COMPOUNDS.

They will not harm the most delicate female, and can be given with good effect in prescribed doses to the youngest babe.

FOR CUTANEOUS DISORDERS

And all eruptions of the skin, the SALVE is most invaluable. It does not heal externally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very root of the evil!

DR. MAGGIEL'S PILLS.

WHO WANTS A PIANO?

SEVERAL Patrons of the Concord Female College have requested my aid in securing good for their use. This has induced me to make arrangements with some of the best manufacturers, which enable me to furnish instruments of the first class at reduced prices. I can save each purchaser from $40 to $100. Price lists of the manufacturers will be sent to those who desire them, to aid them in making selections.

When selections shall have been made the money can be sent to me, at my expense, by the Southern Express, and a Piano will be shipped to the Depot the purchaser may designate. Each Piano sold will be fully warranted. Address me at Statesville, N. C.

1866. SPRING TRADE. 1866.

IN OPENING THE

SPRING TRADE,

I would return my most grateful thanks to the citizens of Petersburg and the surrounding country for the very liberal patronage extended the past season, and hope to merit its further continuance by holding out still further inducements.

My present facilities are beyond doubt unequalled, and no effort will be spared to place before our patrons Goods that the present market value will admit of, and in many instances much below, as we are constantly represented at the large auction sales, where goods are frequently sold much less than cost of importation. These, with

Many Other Available Facilities,

I pledge myself to use to the best interest of our customers.

The stock is now much larger and better assorted than at any time previous, having added a complete assortment of

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS,

Among them the most elegant
Satin Damask,
Lace and Muslin Curtains,
Wine Cloths,
Piano and Table Covers,
Stair Linen,
Linen Druggets,
Table Linen,
Napkins, Doilies,
Towels, Crash

-ALSO-

WHITE GOODS,

Of which I have always kept a good stock, is now replete with everything the market affords. Besides, a very handsome stock of

Needlework,
Edgings, Insertings,
Laces and Embroideries.

THE STOCK OF
LADIES' DRESS GOODS,

Must be seen to be appreciated, I therefore invite all to an inspection, and in catering so well for the ladies, I would assure the gentlemen they have not been forgotten. The assortment of

Cloths,
Cassimeres,
-AND-
Furnishing Goods Generally,

Is complete, and it is hoped those in want of goods of this class will not fail to give us a call.

To the Merchants of Virginia and North Carolina, who have so liberally patronized us the past season, I return my most grateful thanks, and solicit an early call, assuring them they will find our goods at as low prices as any house North or South.

THOMAS SMITH,

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE.

It is undoubtedly the best Family Sewing Machine in existence.

Read the following recommendations:

1st.

Its Simplicity and Great Range of Work.

2nd.

Its making four different Stitches, viz: Lock, Knot Double Lock, Double Knot.

3rd.

The Reverse Feed Motion, operated by simply turning a thumb screw, enabling the operator to run the work to the right or to the left, and convenience of self-fastening the ends of seams.

4th.

The Perfect Finish and substantial manner in which the machine is made.

5th.

The Rapidity of its Working, and the quality of the work done.

6th.

Its Self-Adjusting Tension.

It makes the Celebrated Elastic Stitch.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B, except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments.

It is the duty of the maker of an instrument to affix and cancel the stamp required thereon. If he neglects to do so, the party for whose use it is made may stamp it before it is used; but in no case can it be legally used without a stamp; and if issued after the 30th of June, 1864, and used without a stamp, it cannot be afterwards effectually stamped. Any failure upon the part of the maker of an instrument to appropriately stamp it renders him liable to a penalty of two hundred dollars.

Suits are commenced in many States by other process than writ, viz: summons, warrant, publication, petition, &c., in which cases these, as the original processes, severally require stamps.

Writs of scire facias are subject to stamp duty as original processes

The jurat of an affidavit, taken before a Justice of the Peace, Notary Public, or other officer duly authorized to take affidavits, is held to be a certificate, and subject to a stamp duty of five cents, except when taken in suits or legal proceedings

Certificates of loan, in which there shall appear any written or printed evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand, or at a time designated, are subject to stamp duty as "Promissory Notes."

The assignment of a mortgage is subject to the same stamp duty as that imposed upon the original instrument; that is to say, for every sum of five hundred dollars, or any fractional part thereof of the amount secured by the mortgage at the time of its assignment, there must be fixed a stamp or stamps denoting a duty of fifty cents

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument, the stamp to which the instrument is liable under the law may be affixed and cancelled by any one of the parties.

In conveyances of real estate, the law provides that the stamp affixed must answer to the value of the estate or interest conveyed.

No stamp is required on any warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note, when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required; and whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers, such stamp duty being the highest rate required for such instruments, or either of them. In such case, a note or memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgment of the instrument which is not stamped.

COPARTNERSHIP.

NEWBERN, N. C., November 1st, 1865.

WE HAVE THIS DAY FORMED A COPARTnership under the name and style of

Whitford, Dill & Co.,

for the transaction of a Shipping and General Commission Business, in this Town, West side Craven Street, on old County Wharf.

To the sale of Cotton, Naval Stores, Tobacco, Lumber, Staves, Shingles, Corn, and all kinds of Produce and Merchandise, and also to the sale and purchase of Real Estate and State and other Stocks, we will give our personal attention.

We are Agents for Murry's North Carolina Semi Weekly Line of Steamships, between Newbern and New York, and for Sailing Vessels for Baltimore, Philadelphia, and other ports in the United States and for different ports in the West Indies. Thus it will be seen that we are furnished by our own vessels with the amplest facilities for the speedy transportation of Freight and Passengers. But in addition to these, there is a weekly line of Ocean Steamships on the same route, and a tri-weekly line of Steamers by inland route through Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal to Norfolk, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York; hence Merchants and Shippers entrusting the transportation of their freight to us, can rely with confidence on its speedy transit.

☞ We will make liberal advances on consignments.

All letters addressed to us on the subject of freight, or on any other business, will be promptly answered.
